OVERPAID ANYWAY.

"I claim that Congressmen are paid more than they're worth."
"How much are they paid?"
"I don't know."

TWO IN ONE.

"Sages tell us that the best way to get the most out of life is to fall in love with a great problem or a beautiful woman."

"Why not choose the latter and get both?"

HIGH GAME.

"My time," said the magnate, "is worth $100 a minute."
"Well," answered his friend casually, "let's go out this afternoon and play $10,000 or $15,000 worth of golf."

CLASSIC OBSCURATIONS.

"Some of the greatest works of literature and philosophy lie buried in obscurity."
"Don't I know it?" agreed Senator Sorghum. "Look at any of last year's party platforms."

TIME SAD ASSOCIATIONS.

"I can't play billiards in the winter-time at all."
"Why not?"
"Every time I get to knocking those three balls around it reminds me of my overcoat."

HOLDING THE ATTENTION.

"Can you demonstrate your theory so that it can be popularly understood?"
"Perhaps," replied the eminent scientist. "But why consign it to obscurity by ending a very interesting discussion?"

SERIOUS.

"What's the charge, officer?"
"Vagrancy, your honor. He was loafing around a street corner."
"Ah, impersonating an officer."

HE KNEW.

MORE BRAINS (at piano recital)
—"What is that charming thing he is playing?"
LESS BRAINS—"A piano, y' dub."

A SAFE RISK.

FIRST UNDERGRAD. — "What shall we do?"

SECOND UNDERGRAD. — "I'll spin a coin. If it's heads we'll go to the movies; if it's tails we'll go to the dance, and if it stands on edge we'll study."

THE WIND WINS.

SCHRECHAM—"He was a wise poet who remarked that in this world a man must be either anvil or hammer."

PEACHAM—"Oh, I don't know. It seems that most of them are merely bellows."

Give The Sun Your Job Printing.

TO AVOID CONFUSION.

There is talk of a building strike in the near future. Bricklayers would have to wear red rosettes or something to indicate that they were not working.

LEAK SOMEWHERE.

EDITOR—"We can't accept this poem. It isn't verse at all; merely an escape of gas."
ASPIRING POET—"Ah! I see; something wrong with the meter."

REAL JOY RIDE.

"What sort of a time is your friend having on his motor tour?"
"Great! I've had only two letters from him—one from a police-station and the other from a hospital."

DOING THEIR BEST.

"Couldn't you find any eggs, dear?" a woman asked her little city niece who was visiting on her farm.
"No, auntie," said the child, "the hens were scratching all around as hard as they could, but they hadn't found a single egg."

Are you interested in the welfare of your family?

NOTHING you can buy for the home provides so much convenience, cleanliness and comfort for the family or protects their health as much as good plumbing in the bath and kitchen.

It also obviates the embarrassment which an old, insanitary bathroom would cause you when your guest has to use the same.

If you are interested in better plumbing, call and see what suggestions we have for improvement.

Neighborliness--

Neighborliness is rare between renters; ownership implies permanence, which in turn implies community interests with other residents, and community interests makes for neighborliness.
